From February 11 – 13, 2025, I attended the Federation of Canadian Municipalities-Sustainable Communities Conference (FCM SCC). This conference gathers together approximately 500 attendees from across Canada to share stories of successful sustainability projects.

Attached to this report is a summary of my notes and FCM information along with links to various tools and resources. Although there are many references to municipalities, the ideas can be applied to Regional District services. The greatest learning is that by investing in our communities to adapt to climate instability, we address and improve the lives of people in multiple ways.

Respectfully submitted,
