SPONSORSHIP REQUEST

On June 21, thousands will gather on our ancestral lands for a powerful day of music, culture, storytelling, and community connection.

National Indigenous Peoples Day at Lheidli T'enneh Memorial Park is more than an event, it is a visible act of reconciliation in motion. It honours the resilience, creativity, and enduring presence of Indigenous Peoples while creating space for learning, celebration, and unity.

Last year our event included a dynamic main stage, expanded cultural programming, youth activities, Elders' space, community engagement opportunities throughout the park, and over community 75 information and vendor booths.

We invite your organization to stand with us.
